SPECIAL EVENTS

Kids Earn Free Books!

This year, we've joined forces with Andrew Clements, author of Frindle and other best-selling books, for our twelfth annual Summer Reading Program. Kids entering Grades 1-6 earn a free book when they read eight books and fill out a journal sheet. Ask any bookseller for details. Teacher kits available.

THURSDAY, JUN 5 AT 7:30 PM Science Fiction Book Group: Sirens of Titan by Kurt Vonnegut

A cold and malevolent universe is all the humanity can ever know. In the near future, Vonnegut's scientific researchers learn that the substance of which that galaxy is made, IceT, assures that human life will ever be Emily Dickinson's "zero at the bone."

FRIDAY, JUN 13 AT 7:00 PM Signing

The Visone Method: A New Philosophy in Early Childhood Education by director of Home Away From Home Academy

At last there's a refreshingly practical and thorough instructional model to help children from infancy to six years feel safe, enhance their learning experiences, and increase their self-esteem. This book can revolutionize the entire approach to early childhood education. Not one book of its kind exists. — Irene Sessa, founder of the Universal Pre-Kindergarten Program as Principal on Staten Island.

EVERY WEDNESDAY AT 10:00 AM Writing Group Women's Writing Workshop

Have you always yearned to write? If so, join our weekly group. Bring a pen, and an open mind. New members are always welcome.

MONDAY, JUN 2 AT 7:30 PM

Mystery Book Group and Discussion: Dope by Sara Gran

Josephine Flannigan should be dead by now. From an overdose, or a cop's bullet, or run down in some back alley. But after a childhood in Hell's Kitchen and a lifetime on drugs, by 1950 she's finally cleaned up her act and gotten out of trouble — or so she thinks.

MONDAY, JUN 16 AT 7:30 PM

Best Seller Book Group: Someone Knows My Name by Lawrence Hill

The life story of an African Muslim girl sold into slavery, isn't her physical survival. Sure, that's wrenchingly rendered and gives the story its heart. But it's the girl's emotional survival, her constant and ferocious fight for humanity that gives the book its considerable soul.
